Points Equality Procedure

In the event of equality on points within a group, the following procedure shall be used in order of sequence to separate teams playing for medal and/or qualification positions: -

- Overall goal difference (in that particular Phase of the competition).
- Most points in the fixtures played between the teams.
- Goal difference in the fixtures between the teams.
- Most goals scored in the fixture between the teams.
- Overall most goals scored (in that particular Phase of the competition).
- If the above procedures do not separate the teams, the teams will compete in a play-off match(es) in a neutral venue to take place over one leg.
- All remaining league position will be determined by the drawing of lots.

The above criteria will also be used if three or more teams are equal on points. When two teams are equal on points (either at the start of the tied situation or after one or more teams have been eliminated from the procedure), then the process must commence or re-commence as applicable with criteria (a).

Points Equality Procedure

In the event of equality on points within a group, the following procedure shall be used in order of sequence to separate teams playing for medal and/or qualification positions: -

- Overall goal difference (in that particular Phase of the competition).
- Most points in the fixtures played between the teams.
- Goal difference in the fixtures between the teams.
- Most goals scored in the fixture between the teams.
- Overall most goals scored (in that particular Phase of the competition).
- If the above procedures do not separate the teams, the teams will compete in a play-off match(es) in a neutral venue to take place over one leg.
- All remaining league position will be determined by the drawing of lots.

The above criteria will also be used if three or more teams are equal on points. When two teams are equal on points (either at the start of the tied situation or after one or more teams have been eliminated from the procedure), then the process must commence or re-commence as applicable with criteria (a).
